Front row: Grant Rose, Dolly Rose (married an Oliver), Bill Rose in dress.

The family of William<sup>1</sup> Rose of Bedford County, Pennsylvania, falls into Group BB of the Rose Y-DNA study. According to a deed in Bedford County William had a wife named Mary, but other records indicate he may have had a first wife Mrs. Sarah Gardner (unconfirmed). This interesting Pennsylvania family left many descendants, some of whom still live in that area.

ROSE FAMILY ASSOCIATION

761 Villa Teresa Way, San Jose, CA 95123 (new address)

Email: Christine@Christine4Rose.com

Website: <http://www.RoseFamilyAssociation.com>

Dear Readers,

The new "Members Only" section of our website has gotten off to an excellent start. We have the 2013 issues posted, and the renewal form for 2014 is also posted there. Please check your records: if you have not renewed for 2014 you can either use the form or simply send a check and mark it as renewal. If you want to use Paypal for the renewal, you can either send the payment to: Christine@Christine4Rose.com or let us know you want to use Paypal and we will send you a Paypal email with a link you can use to complete the payment to them.

We have some articles in this issue written by others which should be of interest to members. Patricia Rose has written about her ancestor Isaiah R. Rose who was featured on "Who Do You Think You Are?" Henry G. Taliaferro has submitted additional information on his branch of the Patrick Rose family of Firmont, Virginia. Denis Stefango wrote about some interesting letters and other information on his branch of the Capt. Joseph Rose family of New York City, and Rose Klix sent the results of some of her Woodbury County, Iowa research. These items plus much more appear in this issue.

We would love to have photos of our members for publication. Some have already sent them. Others are not sure how to scan and email copies. For those of you who wish to submit photos of yourself (or of you and your immediate family) and don't know how, you can just mail a copy. Let us know if you want it returned. (See our address at the bottom of the Contents Page of this issue). If you do know how to scan, you can email it to us.

The holiday season is a time when families get together. It would be a good opportunity to get a family photo! And perhaps a good time to get the older family members to talk of their recollections of the early family.

The year has gone quickly. We have been very busy. We moved after 45 years and though we've sorted, sorted and sorted, it seems there is still much more that needs sorting! Those of you who have long long years at the same place will understand, we are sure.

We always reflect at this time of year on the years that we and many of you have been involved with the Association. We started the Rose Family Bulletin in 1966, and the Rose Family Association in 1980-81. It hardly seems possible! We've met many of you here and there in our travels, and hope to meet more of you in the coming year. We are thankful to have you in our lives, and wish you all a wonderful holiday and a New Year full of blessings and health.

“Who Do You Think You Are?” ... Isaiah R. Rose

by Patricia Rose

Member Patricia Rose #2767R01, descendant of Isaiah R. Rose's brother, the later featured on the popular “Who Do You Think You Are?” shares with us the following.

“I watched with great interest the segment of Who Do You Think You Are? featuring Kelly Clarkson. The program profiled her ancestor Isaiah R. Rose (1843 – 1916), who served in the Civil War, was imprisoned in Andersonville Prison, escaped while in captivity and returned to Ohio where he went on to serve as County Sheriff and as a State Senator.

“My interest stemmed from the fact that I. R. Rose was my great great uncle. My father, Charles Manning Rose, was born in Marietta, Ohio in 1905 (died 1986). As a boy he sat and listened to his uncle I.R.'s stories of the Civil War. These he passed down to me. I. R. enlisted in the Union Army, and served with his younger brother Thompson, who was a drummer boy. They fought in the Battle of Decatur in 1864, and Isaiah was captured. What the TV show does not mention is that I. R. saw that his brother had been mortally wounded. He stopped and comforted Thompson as he died, and it was because of this act of compassion that I. R. was captured. He was taken to Andersonville, and according to my father's telling, he attempted to escape twice. If he had been caught after a third attempt, the Andersonville captors would have shot him. Fortunately he succeeded that third time, and travelled by night back to the Union lines (although he was unfortunately shot by a Union sentry as he approached.)

Member Patricia Rose of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, descendant of Isaiah R. Rose.

“The television program documented a slightly different escape. They reported that in fact he was moved from Andersonville to another prison, and while in or near Savannah he escaped. The show also focused on his public service as Washington County Sheriff in the 1880's and as an Ohio State Senator. He was elected to the Senate in 1906 but was defeated after one term, targeted by the liquor industry for his support of the County Option Bill (allowing individual counties to decide on temperance.)

“It was a great pleasure to see my home town of Marietta on the show, and the Roundbottom Cemetery near the village of Coal Run where I. R. and many other Roses are buried. My father was the grandson of I. R.'s youngest brother, Manning Mason Rose (1856 –1940). M. M. himself was involved in public service as a Deputy Sheriff under his brother, and as the Assistant Commissioner of the United States Land Office in Washington D.C., where he sent the telegrams that signaled the start of land rushes. He was also in charge of the land office's exhibit at the Columbian Exposition in Chicago in 1893. M. M. then served as Postmaster of Washington County for 13 years, and was a civic leader.”

American State Papers

The American State Papers, thirty-eight physical volumes into ten series, contain the legislative and executive documents of Congress during the period 1789 to 1838. The collection includes documents that cover the critical historical gap from 1789 to the printing of the first volume of the U.S. Serial Set in 1817.

Vol. 1 p. 169, South Carolinian Yazoo Company. concerns Alexander Rose: State of Georgia granted Alexander Rose a certificate for six thousand one hundred and three pounds sterling out of which he sold J. Gairdner of Charleston etc. [Rose is mentioned several times; access this source to read the full account.]

Vol. 6 pp. 847-848: Private Land Claims in Missouri, includes No. 90 Bartholomew Cousin. In 1803 mention is made of “lands formerly occupied by Messrs. Benjamin Rose ...” etc. Also mentioned is James Brady's claim assignee of Benjamin Rose. [See for more] See also Vol. 2 pp. 663-664 for more on Benjamin Rose, district of Cape Girardeau. ## NEWS IN BRIEF

Dan Rose, VP of Partnerships, Facebook, is mentioned in an ad for DIVENTOMEDIA, a presentation February 11-12, 2013 in Dana Point, Calif., "The Who and What of Media and Technology. [The Wall Street Journal, Jan. 15, 2013, sent by Thomas M. Rose.]

In an article in the Richmond Times-Dispatch of April 8, 2012, datelined at Virginia Beach by Michael Felberbaum and Zinie Chen Sampson, AP ... a 12-ton Navy jet crashed in a spectacular fireball into a big apartment complex. According to Daniel O. Rose, a former Navy jet pilot, "I think it was a lot of fortuity. You look at this as a one-off and you still got to scratch your head." Rose, a former pilot who is now an aviation attorney, said the fact no one was killed on the ground was "about as close as you can get to a miracle." [Sent by Thomas M. Rose]

From The Wall Street Journal, May 1, 2012, an article on Running (Biking and Skiing), was bylined by Sarah Rose. [Sent by Thomas M. Rose]

From the newspaper of Apr. 16, 2012 (name of newspaper not shown) Olympic champ Murray Rose, a four-time Olympic champion swimmer for Australia, died Sunday in Sydney at age of 73. He won three golds at the 1956 Melbourne Games, becoming a national hero at 17, and four years later won gold, silver and bronze in Rome. [Sent by Thomas M. Rose]

In an article in The Wall Street Journal of May 5-6, 2012, by Erik Holm, "In Ajit Jain, Some See Next Buffett." Mr. Jain, who runs Berkshire Hathaway giant reinsurance division, made an unsolicited bid for Transatlantic Holdings Inc. This lengthy article also mentioned that analysts at Dowling & Partners said in a February report that after reviewing more than a dozen possible CEO candidates and considering their ages, they would focus on Matt Rose, 53, who runs railroad operator Burlington Northern Sante Fe, and Greg Abel, 49, chief of utility operators MidAmerican Energy. [Sent by Thomas M. Rose]

From Jan. 13, 2013 (name of newspaper not included) in an article by AP "Miss New York is named Miss America, and wins scholarship," it is mentioned that Miss District of Columbia Allyn Rose "fell short in her bid to become Miss America, despite successfully conveying a message about breast cancer prevention." [Sent by Thomas M. Rose]

From Sept. 5, 2012 (name of newspaper not included), in an article "Va. Guard all home from war" by Mike Hixenbaugh of The Virginia-Pilot, dated at Norfolk: Col. Michele Rose left the Army in 1994 after two overseas tours and joined the National Guard, hoping to stay closer to home. "The Yorktown resident was young and in love and ready to start a family. The guard offered her a chance to stay in the military without the expectation of repeat foreign deployments. Then came 9/11." [Sent by Thomas M. Rose]

In a column in The Wall Street Journal of Dec. 27, 2012, "Why You Don't Need Piles of Money," David C. Rose, Department of Economics, University of Missouri-St. Louis, St. Louis, Mo., offers his opinions. [Sent by Thomas M. Rose]

From The Richmond Times-Dispatch, Sep. 2013 in an article "Be Prepared for the Unexpected" by Sarah E. Needleman, "Zachary Rose of New York lost tens of thousands of dollars last year when an employee stole critical paperwork from his lead-certification training business. He says he wishes he had the $2,000-a-year insurance policy that he's since taken out to protect his firm from any damages caused by dishonest employee behaviour ... Mr. Rose, 31, founded Green Education Services in 2009 after getting laid off from an architecture firm. [Sent by Thomas M. Rose]

From the Richmond Times-Dispatch of Oct. 5, 2012, in an article bylined by Mark Bowes, "Man's death linked to snakebite." An amateur naturalist found dead in his Chesterfield County home after being bit by one of his venomous snakes died of complications ... J. D. Kleopher, a herpetologist with the game department, and Dr. Ruddy Rose, director of the Virginia Poison Center at VCU Medical Center, said Redmond's health problems could have figured into making the snake bite lethal.

Patrick Rose of "Firmont" in Virginia

DESCENDANT OF REV. ROBERT ROSE

BY: HENRY G. TALIAFERRO

Henry says: "On page 65 of The Brothers Rev. Robert and Rev. Charles] Rose ... of Virginia, you [compiler Christine Rose] list the children of Patrick Rose of Firmont, by his second wife, Mary Nicholas. These include:

"Louisa, m. 14 Jan. 1811, Nelson Co. VR, Charles F. Taliaferro"

"You give no further information for Louisa, or for any of her descendants, of whom I am one. I thought you might like to have some account of one branch of those descendants for your records.

To begin, Louisa Rose married Charles Pulaski Taliaferro. He was the son of John Taliaferro (1765-1807) and Elizabeth Loving, of Amherst Co. Charles Pulaski and his family moved to Heywood Co., Tennessee in 1832.

Charles Pulaski and Louisa (Rose) Taliaferro had issue:

1.) General John E. Taliaferro (1812-1866), who married Sarah Bowen in Oxford Miss., 1844. In 1840, Gov. James K. Polk of Tennessee appointed him Inspector General of the Tennessee Militia. He shortly moved to Oxford, Mississippi where he practiced law in the early 1840s. He represented Lafayette County in the Mississippi State Senate 1850-54. In 1851 he and his family moved to Tallahatchie Co., Mississippi, and settled on a plantation near Taliaferro Crossing, a now defunct railroad station about two miles north of Enid, Miss. Taliaferro represented Tallahatchie Co. in the Mississippi House of Representatives 1857-59, and the Senate from 1859 to 1865. Issue:

1a.) E. L. Taliaferro (born 1848), who inherited the family plantation at Taliaferro Crossing. John E., Sarah, and E. L. Taliaferro are buried at Enid's Oak Hill Cemetary, twelve miles northeast of Charleston, Miss.

2.) Dr. Garland Taliaferro (1821-1859) , of Brownsville, Tennessee. He married Rebecca Bowen (1828-1853), of Oxford, Mississippi. Issue:

2a.) Judge William Garland Taliaferro (1848-1929), attended Lebanon Law School, Tennessee, and moved to Texas in 1872. He settled in Austin, where he was the law partner of John C. Townes, subsequently the first Dean of the School of Law School at the University of Texas at Austin. Taliaferro later moved to Bryan and then Calvert, Texas, where he served as District Judge for two terms. He married Mary Singleton Field (1849-1923), of Calvert, Texas. Issue:

2aa.) William Field Taliaferro. Attended the University of Virginia.

2ab.) Henry Garland Taliaferro Jr. (died 1958), of Calvert, Texas. Attended Randolph Macon College. He married his first cousin, Anne Carson Field.

"General John E. and Dr. Garland Taliaferro married the sisters, Sarah and Rebecca Bowen. They were the daughters of Capt. Charles Bowen, of Oxford, Miss, were second cousins to William Bowen Campbell, the last Whig Governor of Tennessee, and first cousins twice removed to Sarah Johnston, niece of Confederate General Joseph E. Johnston, who married Henry Lee, Son of Gen. Fitzhugh Lee. According to Williamson, William Faulkner and Southern History, Sarah and Rebecca Bowen's older siblings, William Bolivar and Narcissa Bowen were the models for the Benbows, central characters in William Faulkner's Sartoris.

"William Garland and his son Henry Garland Taliaferro married respectively, Mary Singleton and her niece, Anne Carson Field. They were the sister and daughter of Henry Field of Calvert, Texas, and his wife Virginia Townsend; daughter and granddaughter of Henry Field, Sr.; and granddaughter and great-granddaughter of Thomas Field (1781?-1828), of Culpeper Co., and later Petersburg, Va., who married in turn the sister and niece of General Winfield Scott."

[Ed. Note: Our thanks to Henry for this additional information.]

Archibald Rose: 1853 Scrip Act

PARTIAL PAPERS: SEE NATIONAL ARCHIVES PI 22 ENTRY 4 RG 49 (FEDERAL LAND RECORDS)

These are from the SCRIP FILE under Scrip Act of 1853 [Revolutionary War], for heirs of Archibald Rose, deceased. Readers will remember that in the last issue (September 2013 RFB) we published the Final Payment of Pension papers for this soldier. It is hoped that reading both of these files, that is, the Final Payment of Pension and now this 1853 Scrip act (land bounty) application, it will be seen that there is considerable more available in many instances that supplement the regular pension papers of these soldiers. Remember too that the basic pension papers would be on M804, a National Archives microfilm publication. [See next page.]

Virginia, Norfolk Borough, at a Hustings Court 27 May 1837, application of William R. Howe and Cynthia his wife and William M. Webb and Mary Ann his wife (the said Cynthia and Mary Ann being heirs at law of Archibald Rose deceased formerly a Revolutionary Pensioner of the U.S., it is ordered that to be certified that it appears from the affidavit of Elizabeth Mitchell (now filed) that the said Archibald Rose departed this life on the 26th December 1829 in the Borough of Norfolk and that it further appears to the Court by the evidence of Catharine Guthrie that she said Cynthia, Mary Ann and Rebecca Rose are the only children and heirs at law of the said Archibald Rose deceased and that he left no widow, and that the said Rebecca Rose removed from the Commonwealth and that it further appears from the saith? The said Rebecca Rose has not been heard of for more than two years and that she is in parts unknown and that exertions have been made without success to ascertain her residence.

Virginia Norfolk Borough, At a Hustings Court 24 July 1837, ordered that the evidence of Elizabeth Mitchell showing that Archibald Rose deceased Revolutionary pensioner died 26 December 1829 and the evidence of Catharine Guthrie showing that Cynthia Howe wife of William R. Howe, Mary Ann the wife of William M. Webb and Rebecca Rose are the only children and heirs at law of Archibald Rose. Before Court 27 May 1837.

State of Virginia City of Norfolk, John Williams, Clerk of the Hustings Court of the City (formerly Borough) of Norfolk, Virginia certify to the foregoing orders. Signed: Jno Williams CC Declaration: I do certify that Sergt Archibald Rose enlisted in the cavalry of this state 23 July 1779 and continued in the service until discharge. Dated: 24 July 1783. Signed: --? Armistead, Capt., L.D.

Power of Attorney: William R. Howe and Cynthia his wife, and William M. Webb and Mary Ann his wife (the said Cynthia and Mary Ann being heirs at Law of Archibald Rose deceas'd, formerly a Revolutionary Pensioner of the U.S.) the two former of the County and the two latter of the City of Norfolk State of Virginia, do constitute and appoint James Baker Esq Notary Public of the City of Norfolk their lawful attorney to demand all money, lands or other things whatsoever which may be due to the late Arvchibald Rose, Pensioner, and after having received the same, to divide it among us the Lawful heirs. Dated: November 28, Norfolk City, Virginia, 1849. Signed: William R. Howe, Cynthia Howe, William M. Webb, Mary Ann Webb.

The Capt. Joseph Rose Family of New York City

Editor's note: In past issues we have published some interesting items and photos concerning this family, including the historic home on Wall Street in NYC which in recent years became luxury condos. Now, from descendant Denis Stefango, we received the following email. We asked his permission to publish it in its entirety and he agreed, and also send to us for publication the letter which follows. Some of our "old time" members will remember another descendant of this family, Shaler Gordon Smith, a member of our Association who attended early conferences. Gordon died far too young but had avidly researched this family. Gordon, though legally named Smith, was only so named because after William Lucius Rose and his wife Charlotte Smith were divorced, some of the younger children went thereafter by their mother's maiden name of Smith.

From: Denis Stefango: "I received the research [The Family Report of the Rose Family Association] on the descendants of Capt Joseph Rose and found it most interesting. It adds more information and more importantly citations to my Rose family line. I am a descendant of his through William Lucius Rose, daughter Frances Everallyn Rose/Smith married to William Wallace Irwin, daughter Frances Mason Irwin married to James Goodfellow Mustin and daughter Caroline Denny Mustin who was my great grandmother.

"In 1939 Caroline finished her 100 page autobiography written for her six grand children one being my mother. She only wrote of her maternal grandfather William Wallace Irwin and that he was mayor of Pittsburgh, US Congressman and Charge D' Affairs to Denmark. She never mentions his first wife Frances Everallyn Rose nor his second wife Sophia Arabella Bache who was great granddaughter of Benjamin Franklin and their five children. I surmise that because her mother was left to be raised by her grandmother Agnes Irwin (Fanny in the 1850 Census with her sister Charlotte), her father died of "Intemperance" in 1856 (the year Caroline was born) and some old family letters we have that there were some family "issues" there.

"Caroline does write about her great aunt Agnes Irwin Rose/Mahon and her many descendants down to Stephen Vincent Benet, etc. Frances and daughter Caroline and her three siblings lived for some time with Agnes after James G Mustin died in 1864. Caroline wrote of growing up with Willie and Dave Rose.

"Many of these Irwin/Mahon/Mustin and Willam Rose (son of Agnes Irwin Rose/Mahon) are buried in the Agnes Farquer Irwin family plot in Allegheny Cemetery in Pittsburgh. I have placed their memorials on FindAGrave.com and tried to connect them to other family. Do you know where William Lucius Rose and ex-wife Charlotte Smith are buried? I would like to connect Frances Everallyn Rose to them. I have a hyper link from her memorial to her grandparents Capt Joseph Rose and Barbara at the Trinity Church in New York."

A sidenote by editor: When our family visited the site of the Wounded Knee massacre in South Dakota when our children were very young, it made a lasting impression. I've read Dee Brown's I Left my Heart at Wounded Knee more than once, and still have a copy in my personal library. Now, we find through Wikipedia that the title of that book is taken from the final phrase of Benét's poem "American Names". The full quotation, "I shall not be there/I shall rise and pass/Bury my heart at Wounded Knee," appears at the beginning of Brown's book.

My dear Fanny

With your grandmother's and Aunt's letters I send you a pretty little magazine. I am in a hurry to finish my letters as the gentleman who carries them goes early tomorrow morning and I have not time to hunt out some little things for Charlotte and for the other Children. I am sorry too that I have nothing more valuable to send you; but it will do as well as the most costly present to testify my affection if you receive it as it was meant.--I suppose you have felt a little lonely since your brother John has left you. If so let that feeling instruct you dear Fanny--let the departure of your brother and the sadness of your separation from him be an emblem of the parting that may very soon and that must indeed some time or another take place between you and your dearest friends--a parting not for a season but perhaps for ever; let then your regret soften your heart towards those who are yet by your side that you may cherish their love with tenfold diligence.-- I hope that you are studying to improve your mind, sweeten your disposition, and purify your soul. I place the latter last as I am convinced that it will necessarily attend knowledge and gentleness. Take care of little Charlotte; love her and act always towards in the manner of a person who does everything through love and you will make her very, very fond of you. I wish very much that you would sit down and write to me an account of your employments and studies; try too to give me your thoughts on what is passing and on what you learn and in order to be able to do this think! Pass nothing useful or profitable or instinctive heedlessly by; when you do so you are hurting yourself. Kiss Charlotte for me, remember me as your cousin who loves you dearly and may you have a happy Christmas day.

Wm J Rose

Commentary by Denis G Stefango (May 17, 2013):

"Wm J Rose" is William J Rose (1826-1871) born posthumously to Agnes Mary Irwin (1805-1889) and Lt William L Rose (1801-1825). "Fanny", "Charlotte" and "John" are siblings and first cousins to William J Rose. "Fanny" is Frances Mason Irwin (1830-1897). She would marry James Goodfellow Mustin in 1856. Their first child was Caroline Denny Mustin/Nicholson/MacKay (Carrie). "Charlotte" was Charlotte Wyman Irwin (1834- ). She would marry in 1860 Dr William Edwin Taylor, USN (1837-1906). "John" is John Irwin (1832-1901). He would marry Oceana B Saint in 1858. John joined the US Navy in 1847. He achieved the rank of Rear Admiral and is buried with his wife in Arlington National Cemetery.

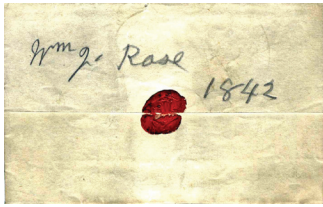

Fanny, Charlotte and John were the children of Frances Everallyn Rose/Smith (sister of Lt. William L Rose) and William Wallace Irwin. Frances Everallyn Rose/Smith was the daughter of Charlotte Clara Smith and William Lucius Rose. After they divorced in 1827 Charlotte and some of her children assumed the mother's maiden name Smith. One "Biography" of William W Irwin refers to his wife as Frances Everallyn Smith. William Wallace Irwin was the son of John Irwin (1746-1830) of County Tyrone, Northern Ireland and Agnes Farquar (1783- 1860). They met and married in Cumberland County, PA. John Irwin was a successful business man in Pittsburgh and built a family estate at "Erin Hill" a mile east of the "point" in Pittsburgh. Until Agnes Farquar Irwin's death in 1860 the Erin Hill Estate was the home and birth place of several Irwin and Mahon generations.

In 1842 Fanny and Charlotte were living at Erin Hill with their paternal grandmother. Their mother died in 1836 when they were all very young. In 1839 their father William Wallace Irwin married for the second time to Sophia Arabella Bache great granddaughter of Benjamin Franklin. In that same year William W Irwin was Mayor of Pittsburgh. In 1840 he was elected to the US Congress and served one term, 1841-1843. After that he was appointed Charge D' Affairs to Denmark. After serving several years in Copenhagen he and Sophia returned to Washington DC.

Fanny, Charlotte and John were left with their grandmother to be raised. In the letter William J Rose consoles Fanny as she misses her brother John who has left Erin Hill. It is assumed that the ten year old John Irwin went to Washington DC to live with his father.

Editor's note: William John<sup>4</sup> Rose (William<sup>3</sup>, William Lucius<sup>2</sup>, Capt. Joseph<sup>1</sup>), the writer of the letter, was born 1825-26 probably either in Washington, D.C. or New York City. He died 1876-77 (when daughter Frances Neill Rose was aged 11). William J. married, Mary Lee Mahon. His daughter Frances married Stephen Vincent Benét son of Colonel J. Walker Benét. According to a biography at <http://www.essaylet.com/author/stephen-vincent-benet/stephen-vincent-benet-biography.html> "Benét grew up in home, where literature was valued and enjoyed. Most of his boyhood Benét spent in Benicia, California. At the age about ten, Benét was sent to the Hitchcock Military Academy. However, he preferred reading to athletics and did not like the insensitivity of his school mates. Later wrote about his experiences in his poem about Shelley at Eton: "His pile of books scattered about his feet, / Stood Shelley while two others held him fast, / And the clods beat upon him." Benét completed his secondary education in Augusta, Georgia, where his father had been assigned a new post. Benét's first book, Five Men and Pompey (1915), a collection of verse, was published when he was 17. It showed the romantic influence of William Morris as well as the influence of modern realism." [His most famous book was The Devil and Daniel Webster.]

BOY KILLED AND EATEN BY A BEAR

[This is a tragic story of one family's sorrow.] We learn that a boy named Alden S. Rose, about 16 years of age, and orphan son of the late Samuel D. Rose, formerly of this city, was killed in this county, last week, by an enormous bear, and, when found, a large portion of the body of the unfortunate youth had been devoured by the savage animal. This lad had been residing with the family of his brother, some 12 or 15 miles NE of this place, and had been sent to a corn field some distance from the house, for roasting ears. Not returning as soon as expected, the family became uneasy about him, when the husband and wife mounted their horses, near the close of the day, and went in the direction he had gone, to look for him. Arriving at the field, they found a portion of the corn considerably broken and trampled down, and, while examining it, an enormous he-bear suddenly issued from an adjoining thicket, and made directly toward them, which frightened the horse the woman was riding and threw her off. Her husband succeeded in getting her up on the horse he was riding, when they escaped from the furious beast. Several of the neighbors collected the following morning and proceeded to the field, where they found the mutilated remains of the unfortunante lad, partly eaten up by the bear, as stated above. Parties, we understand, have been hunting the bear ever since the sad occurrence, but had not succeeded in capturing him when we last heard from that neighborhood. We hope they may succeed in killing him, for, having got a taste of human flesh, he may prove a dangerous animal, particularly to children, in so sparsely settled a portion of the county.

1-Samuel Rose m Elizabeth; 2-Rachel Rose bp 1787 m John Carr ... to 6-member

Family of Prince Edward County, Ontario, Canada.

Barbara tells us that she likes scuba diving. She owned her own power boat and located some ship wrecks in Lake Ontario. She is a member of the Ontario Genealogical Society and the United Empire Loyalists' Association and the United church of Canada. Among her hobbies are gardening and decorative painting and sailing. She also enjoys hockey, curling and baseball (to watch) games, in addition to a love of Irish music.

See:

http://www.pecounty.on.ca/government/community\_development/museums/rose\_house.php

Rose House has survived since the early 1800s with few alterations, inhabited by 5 generations of the Rose family. Peter Rose arrived in Prince Edward County and was among the first Marysburgh settlers, made up largely of United Empire Loyalists and Hessian (German) soldiers who had fought for the British in the American Revolution. According to tradition, Rose House is constructed from salvaged timber from the community's original Lutheran Church. Peter and his wife, Christina Bongard, raised 11 children in this modest farmhouse. [Prince Edward County, Ontario, Canada.]

From the Mailbag

Terri Walker #1637W91 sent the link to an article concerning John Rose Sr., West Virginia. This West Virginia candidate was killed in a super storm, John Rose, Sr., but his name remained on the ballot after his death. He was killed by a falling tree during a severe storm near Philippi, West Virginia. His wife, who had been walking ahead, heard the limb break, but didn't think anything of it, and didn't realize that anything was wrong. "But then she saw he wasn't coming." His son George said "I don't even think he knew it hit him." He was remembered by locals as "a really nice fellow."

Mailbag

Roger Stephenson whose family photo appeared in the September 2013 issue page 5494 would like to make a chance on the photoidentification. Those girl standing in the back should read "Aunt Hazel Alice Rose" (not Alice Rose).

Cindy Coffell #--- would like to update her family tree in June 2013 p. 5473. She has found that her grandfather's correct name is Jochim Walter Rose. Their son Walter J. Schnack was Cindy's father.

Member Jan Jennings told us that Billy Rose, aged about 25 from Pikeville Kentucky, was a contestant on America's Got Talent.

Kilravock the 26th

Exciting news! Patrice Rose tells us that Miss Elizabeth Rose's nephew David Hugh Baird Rose was in June 2013 designated by the Lord Lyon as Kilravock 26th, Chief of the Clan. This followed the death of Miss Elizabeth Rose who many of our members met during the years. Chieftan David was an honored guest at the Seaside Scottish games in Seaside, California, a few weeks ago.

In Memoriam

Member Jimmie L. Rose #2612R00, wife of Raymond L. Rose #2611R00, passed away 15 November 2012. Raymond traces the family of John Rose of Newton County, Missouri.

Linville J. Rose #3153R08 of Berea, Kentucky, died October 15, 2013 in Lexington, Kentucky. Linville was a descendant of Nathaniel Rose of Estill County, Kentucky, and was very interested in his Rose family.

MEMBERS

Lori Hill # 3219H09 and husband John Caito. Editors Christine and Seymour had the pleasure of meeting Lori when Christine was lecturing at the Bend Oregon Genealogical Society a few weeks ago. Lori is a descendant of Isaac Rose of Mercer County, Pennsylvania, an interesting Rose family with connections to President McKinley.

Q-1130. ROSE. I live in Derbyshire, England. I have traced back to a Stephen Rose born in Newfoundland in 1831 and married to Mary Ann born 1820 or 1825. I found what I believe to be his family in Twillingate and in 1898 in St. Johns where he is listed as a Trader. He had children: James 1851, Harriett 1855, William 1858, Emma 1859 and Stephen 1862. His son James was my g.g.grandfather I cannot find Stephen's parents. My family all seem to have been around Comfort Cove, Farmers Arm and Twillingate. Can anyone help?
