Benjamin Roosa home restoration

WARWARSING, ULSTER COUNTY, NEW YORK

Diane Tso tells us that she owns a stone house in Warwarsing, Ulster County, New York, that was built around 1750 (?) and was at one time the home of Benjamin Roosa (b. 1732) and his wife Jannetje Newkirk (b. 1734). Their daughter, Elizabeth Roosa (b. 1760) married Conrad Bevier (b.1758). Elizabeth's son, Benjamin Roosa Bevier, was born in the house in 1782.

She says that they are currently renovating the house and would love to know more about its history. Although the Bevier family is said to have built the house, she has yet to find any proof of this, and suspects that the home was actually built by the Roosa family. If anyone has information that may shed light on the connection between this house and the Roosa family please contact her at <dianetso@comcast.net>.

DO YOU HAVE ANY PHOTOS OF THE OLD HOME IN WHICH YOUR FAMILY LIVED?

Dear Readers,

We continue to seek some write-ups about your Roses. If you can send us perhaps a one to one and a half page write up of your grandparents or others of your Rose family, please do so. We are not seeking genealogical compilations but rather some writeups reflecting these people personally. Perhaps where they lived, did they ranch, or were they in business. What family stories did you hear about them? Did you know them personally? Visit with them in the summer? Did they do something special you'd like others to know? Send this along with perhaps 2-4 photos and we'd be so glad to have it. We will edit as necessary.

We are sure some of you attended family reunions of your Roses. Please do let us know when and where it was held, and send along a photo or two (identified) from the event.

Of particular interest in this issue is an article on Mary Emma Rose Mitchill Totten (pp. 5586-89). Mary was deaf and at an early age was a student at the American School for the Deaf in Hartford, Connecticut. Later she was the first deaf woman hired at the Illinois School for the Deaf. Mary was a granddaughter of Capt. Joseph Rose of New York City of whom we have had several items in the last few issues.

We do thank you all for your continued support. If it were not for the wonderful notes you send about the help the Bulletin and Association are providing, we would would not have continued. But you have been so very supportive of the efforts and it is deeply appreciated.

Be sure too to visit: www.genforum.com/rose for the message board used by many to find more details of their Roses. This is not maintained by the Rose Family Association but we do visit it often and try to provide some answers there as we can.

Have a great fall!

Above sent by member Thomas A. F. Rose # 1049R85 of Houghton, Michigan. Tom has done an enormous amount of research on his Thomas Rose family of England and Jefferson County, New York, then to Jefferson County, Wisconsin. Above is one page of the naturalization papers in Jefferson County, New York, giving the important information that Thomas is a native of Stury [Sturry], County of Kent, Kingdon of Great Britain. Dated 28 February 1840 and witnessed by Daniel Slickeon? and Reuben P.? Nichols? He was age 43 according to the papers and emigrated in the year 1816. ### WILLIAM J. ROSE

PITTSBURG AND LONG ISLAND

From: William S. Pelletreau, History of Long Island: From Its Earliest Settlement to the Present Time, (Long Island, New York: Lewis Publishing, 1903), Volume 3 pp. 281-282. [Editor did not realize until studying this biography that William J. Rose was a descendant of William John<sup>4</sup> Rose, William<sup>3</sup> Rose, William L.<sup>2</sup> Rose, Capt. Joseph<sup>1</sup>Rose of New York City. See pp. 5586-89 in this issue.]

William J. Rose, general freight agent of the Long Island Railroad, was born at Erin Hill, Pittsburg. Pennsylvania, October 5. 1852, At the age of thirteen years he entered the service of the Warren and Franklin Railroad, a line than being constructed under the auspices of and for the purpose of giving the Pennsylvania Railroad access to the oil regions of Pennsylvania. Displaying a natural talent for railroad work, he has since continued the profession and his record shows that he has filled many and important positions with marked success. Serving under Mr. V J. Cassatt then superintendent of the Warren and Franklin Railroad, Mr. Rose accompanied him to Altoona, Pennsylvania, when Mr., Cassatt was made superintendent of motive power and machinery of the Pennsylvania Railroad at that point. Meantime the Warren and Franklin, and the Farmers and the Oil Creek railroads were consolidated as the Oil Creek and Alleghany River Railroad, thus securing to Pennsylvania Rail road interested a belt line of the oil regions. Mr. Rose, because of his pioneer experience, was then again assigned to duty on this line. Subsequently, for the purpose of promoting a larger westbound tonnage over the main line of the Pennsylvania Railroad by the introduction of anthracite coal in the markets of the west and southwest, there was created in the interest of the Pennsylvania Railroad a corporation known as the Pennsylvania & Ohio Anthracite Coal and Transportation Company, and Mr. Rose was at once assigned to this work, with headquarters in Cincinnati, Ohio, and Pittsburg, Pennsylvania. In 1871 the Pennsylvania Railroad purchased and reorganized the Monongahela Valley Railroad as the Pittsburg, Virginia & Charleston Railroad, and Mr. Rose was made general freight and passenger agent, service in that capacity for a period of eight years, when the road became the Monongahela division of the Pennsylvania Railroad. Mr. Rose was then appointed commercial agent of the main line and branches of the Pennsylvania Railroad west of Harrisburg to Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, inclusive, and including his former territory, the Monongahela Valley.

In 1879, an unexpected vacancy occurring, Mr. Rose was appointed general agent of the Pennsylvania Railroad and Northern Central Railroad for the fast local freight lines, with headquarters at Harrisburg, Pennsylvania. He held that position until it was abolished by the reorganization of the commercial or freight department, when he was made division freight agent of the Philadelphia, Frederick and Schuylkill divisions. On May 1, 1899, he was again promoted as division freight agent of the united railroads of the New Jersey division of the Pennsylvania Railroad at Philadelphia, filling that position until January 15, 1901, when, the Pennsylvania Railroad having purchased the Long Island Railroad, he was appointed general freight agent, a position for which he is singularly well fitted by long and tried experience in the business. It thus appears that although only now in the prime of life, Mr. Rose, for a period of almost forty years, has been closely identified with the most progressive commercial history of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and his election from among its large commercial staff for the delicate and difficult duties now devolving upon him, is a marked recognition of the confidence and esteem in which he is held by the standard railroad of America.

NOTE: Another biography on William J. Rose appeared in J. W. Jordan, Encyclopedia of Pennsylvania Biography (New York: Lewis Historical Publishing Company, 1915), 4:1391-1392. We published an abstract of this in a 1986 issue of the Rose Family Bulletin. According to this source he was "public-spirited to the highest degree, energetic and enterprising, is a descendant of a worthy ancestor, his grandfather, William Rose, having been a graduate of West Point Military Academy, and whose death occurred at an early age, and his father, William John Rose, was a graduate of western University, Pittsburgh, PA, and Heidelberg University, Germany, later becoming connected with the state department at Washington, DC. He was a noted linguist."

The above adds that: "Mr. Rose married, April 28, 1880, at Antille, Cumberland county, PA, a daughter of William Meredith and Anna Matilda (Reed) Watts, of Cumberland county, PA, the former named having in early life been engaged with Milnor Roberts in building the Pittsburgh & Erie Canal, and subsequently owned and operated the Pine grove Furnace at Pine Grove, PA. Two children were born to Mr. and Mrs. Rose: Mary Lee and William Watts. The family occupy a prominent place in the community, being actively interested in social affairs, and their home is noted for the hospitality dispensed there."

Descendant of Capt. Joseph Rose of New York City

GRANDDAUGHTER MARY (ROSE) MITCHELL TOTTEN

Mary Rose was bp 4 April 1816 at St. Mark's in New York City. She was the daughter of Joseph<sup>2</sup> (Capt. Joeph<sup>1</sup>), an early New York City Rose family who we have written about before. Mary's mother was Frances (Stanton) Rose.

The following was sent by Mickey Jones, Ph.D. He tells us: "I feel like Mary Rose is family to me. I respect her so much and just fell in love with her. I used to teach a little 9 year old deaf girl years ago and I clearly recall her little fingers moving rapidly and her bright little mind exciting me. I know Mary Emma was the same and am sure she was the favorite student at Hartford that very first year ... All the females lived together. There were 16 aged 9-40 and you just know they loved taking care of Mary. I imagine Alice Cogswell who was 11 probably went home after school hours since she lived in Hartford. That means the girls aged 16-40 doted on Mary as I am sure many of the girls had younger siblings at home that they missed."

Here is Dr. Totten's account:

MARY EMMA ROSE MITCHILL TOTTEN: FIRST MATRON OF THE ILLINOIS SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF BY MICKEY JONES, Ph.D.

Dr. Philip Gillett, second superintendent of the Illinois School for the Deaf (ISD), wrote a history of the school that covered the beginning up through 1892. He wisely listed all the board members, staff, and students who had been affiliated with the school and even identified which employees were deaf. Thomas Dunlap, Nathan Totten, Selah Wait (former Mayor Helen Foreman's grandfather), and Abel Baker were the first deaf teachers.

1877 when Mary was 69 years of age. She traveled to ISD from NYC to attend the first reunion of its graduates.

Knowing the early written histories of American schools for the deaf published names of their students, I began reading to see if any of ISD's first teachers attended the American School for the Deaf (ASD) that was founded in 1817 in Hartford, Connecticut. It would be exciting to learn if one of the teachers had been a student in the first school for the deaf in the U.S. and to know he had been taught by Thomas Gallaudet, the father of deaf education, and Laurent Clerc, the first deaf teacher in the country. However, it was not to be. Most attended school in New York which was the second school established.

Disappointed but not deterred, I began researching the first deaf woman hired at ISD, Mary Totten (Nathan's wife). Gillett reported the couple began working at ISD in 1847 under Supt. Thomas Officer. Nathan was a teacher and Mary was ISD's first matron.

It was a long, winding road through two marriages with Mary but with the assistance of Gary Wait, archivist at the ASD, we traced the identity of Mary Totten and found a treasure. She was born Mary Emma Rose in New York and in 1817 at age nine she enrolled at the ASD. Mary was the youngest student in school that very first year. ISD now had a direct connection to Gallaudet and Clerc, the founding fathers of deaf education, and Mary Rose had quite a story to tell.

The ASD admitted 31 students initially. The 15 female students were 9-40 years of age and the 16 males were 10-51. The only two girls under the age of 16 were Mary Rose at nine and Alice Cogswell 11. They were destined to be friends due to the age gap of the other female students. Alice is the most famous deaf student in history and Mary knew not only her, but her siblings as well.

Mary's family made arrangements for her to return home to New York when they heard the New York Institution (NYI) for the deaf planned to open in May 1818. When Gallaudet took an April vacation to visit his family in New York City, his sister and Mary Rose joined him. Gallaudet described the trip in his first love letter to Sophia Fowler, his future wife. They left on a stage in early morning and headed for New Haven 40 miles south. It was a cold day with both rain and snow and they arrived around sunset. They rested in New Haven and boarded a steamboat the next night for New York City. Gallaudet's sister was responsible for Mary in the evening and bedtime hours. They arrived at noon the next day. Several of Gallaudet's brothers met them at the dock and they went to the parents' home where Mary stayed for two days

The Statesman Sept. 26, 1826 Vol. V, No.76 (Wall Street, NY)

Marriage of a Deaf and Dumb Person. On Monday evening, 18th. I witnessed a ceremony which to me was very interesting on account of one of the persons engaged. This person was the beautiful and attracting Miss Mary E. Rose, who is deaf and dumb, and who on that evening was married to Mr. D.C. Mitchell, in the Rutgers street Church by the Rev. Dr. McAuley.

The ceremony though short was imposing, and was performed before a crowed meeting of friends, and strangers to the parties, attracted by the novelty of the scene and the circumstance of one of them being a mute. The parties took their station in the middle aisle of the church. and Dr. McAuley commenced by making a very impressive and appropriate prayer. He then, addressing the groom, gave the usual charge, and repeated to him the words of the marriage covenant to which Mr. Mitchell signified his consent. He then stated that as Miss Rose was a mute the covenant had been written out in full and explained to her, and that she clearly comprehended it. It was accordingly handed to her, she read it with designation, intimated by signs that she understood it and consented. Dr. McAuley presented a pen and ink and she subscribed the covenant, when the same was done by Mr. Mitchill. The minister then pronounced them Husband and Wife, and concluded with a prayer. The marriage certificate was handed to Mr. Rose, the father of the bride, and the covenant, after having been subscribed as witnesses by a dozen or more persons, was delivered to the Directors of the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb in this city, in which Miss Rose had been educated.

The late Miss Rose, now Mrs. Mitchill, is almost 19 years old, an exquisitely beautiful and agreeable woman. She has been about seven years in the Institution for the Deaf and Dumb, the latter part of the time as an assistant teacher. Her husband is engaged as principal teacher in the Central school for the Deaf and Dumb at Canajoharie, Montgomery county, of this state, whither the new married couple, we understand, will shortly proceed. May happiness smile on their union, and success attend their labours in giving instruction to the unenlightened deaf mutes. This is the second female mute who has been instructed in New-York and married to a gentleman who can hear and speak.... [rest omitted] until her father picked her up for their trip home to Albany.

The NYI had no trained teachers and they didn't know how to communicate in sign language. The only teachers who had experience with deaf students were in Hartford. What made the ASD outstanding was Laurent Clerc, a brilliant, experienced teacher of the deaf from France. Clerc had tutored Gallaudet when he was in Paris to learn how to teach deaf students. Gallaudet was so impressed with Clerc that he spent considerable energy convincing him to accompany him to the U.S. to help establish the school in Hartford.

Clerc was deaf and he had taught Gallaudet French Sign Language (FSL). It was primarily FSL that Mary Rose and the other students learned in school that first year. When she transferred to the NYI, it was 10 year old Mary who spread Clerc's gift of sign language to the students and staff since no one else could sign.

A year later, 1819, in Albany, Mary was participating in a student exhibition to raise money for the NYI and Mary Cogswell, Alice's sister, attended. She wrote her mother:

"We of course attended it and I must say it was rather shabby...I rather thought it not the first time the pupils had been over the same lessons. Mary Rose remembered me and I talked with her whenever I could do so without being observed."

Mary Rose graduated in 1822 and was immediately appointed assistant teacher. She was bright, industrious, and just 14 years old. Mary has the distinction of being one of the first students to ever become a teacher. In May of that year, she wrote an account of attending church:

"All the Deaf and Dumb pupils went to the Dutch Church in Nassau-street a few days ago and they sat on the stage, and a great many people were crowded in the church, and they looked at Mr. Summerfield preaching, and Mr. Loofborrow told us (by signs) that we must be attentive to him when he will drop his handkerchief on the stage, and we looked at him and we rose up from the benches and stood still... the deacons handed the plates around...it was 1000 dollars...because we are very poor...the Directors will give us victuals and instruction. We must think that God disposes their hearts to help us, and we must be thankful to him."

Mary was a very gifted student. Five years prior to writing this she was nine years old, never been in school and didn't know a word of English or sign language. The academic knowledge she had acquired in a few short years in school was breathtaking.

End of the year exercises were public demonstrations held to show the hard work of staff and students. This was the way the school showed accountability to the community. In May 1826 Mary Rose queried students as assistant teacher and she, in turn, was asked several questions throughout the evening. She wrote her answers on a small slate and these were read to the audience. Here are several:

"What is misery? It is the unhappiness of desire unsatisfied, and also bodily pain and distress.

"What idea had you of God before you was instructed? I had no knowledge in my mind of the revelation of God and Jesus Christ, and was never educated by my dear parents, for I was Deaf and Dumb, but now I am instructed by my teachers.

"What idea have you of God now? I have an idea that God is the good and infinite being who has existed from all eternity, and who has by his own almighty power created all things out of nothing.

"What is the difference between beauty and admiration? Beauty is symmetry of shape or elegance of colour, and admiration is pleasure on seeing any thing which is beautiful."

Several months later on Sept. 18, 1826, Mary married a hearing teacher by the name of DeWitt Clinton Mitchill in the Rutgers Street Church. Alice Cogswell was in NY around that time and wanted to visit Mary but she may have been on her honeymoon. Alice wrote her mother on Sept. 30:

"...The evening before I heard of the good news of my particular friend who was married to a Mr. Mitchell. I had the honor of calling on her. Then we went to the New York Asylum for the D. & D. I was told that she had been out of town. I was sadly disappointed not to see her."

Mary had married into one of the distinguished families in New York. A newspaper article about the wedding described her as "exquisitely beautiful." It reported friends and strangers were interested in the wedding because it was between a hearing man and a deaf woman. It was a novelty since few people had seen an educated deaf person. There was no interpreter at the wedding.

SHE WAS KNOWN TO A LARGE NUMBER OF DEAF-MUTES, HAVING BEEN CONNECTED WITH TWO OF THE LEADING INSTITUTIONS IN THIS COUNTRY.

Mary read the written marriage covenant, used sign language to indicate she understood, and signed the document.

DeWitt Clinton Mitchill's uncle was Dr. Samuel L. Mitchill, one of the leading citizens in New York achieving fame through science, law, medicine, and politics. Two of Dr. Mitchill's personal friends were Thomas Jefferson and New York Gov. DeWitt Clinton. (In fact, the once, young governor had carved his name on one of the windows of the Mitchill mansion which was occupied by Mary's father-in-law). Gov. Clinton and Dr. Mitchill were the two major forces behind creating the NYI and both served terms as board president.

Gov. Clinton had a national reputation for public works and Abraham Lincoln was noted to aspire to being the DeWitt Clinton of Illinois. Lincoln was not directly involved with ISD like Clinton was in the NYI, but he voted for the bill creating ISD in 1839 and 25 years later Pres. Lincoln signed legislation establishing Gallaudet University in Washington, DC. As ISD celebrates its 175th anniversary, Gallaudet is celebrating its 150th. The founder of ISD was Sen. Orville H. Browning, one of Lincoln's best friends. (When Willie Lincoln died in 1862, the Lincoln's immediately summoned Browning and his wife to the White House to stay with them.) Lincoln knew what was going on at ISD. He was friends with ISD's first superintendent, Thomas Officer, and Officer's father lived a couple of blocks from Lincoln in Springfield. Lincoln may have walked by his house on Capitol Street on the way to work. Mary Todd Lincoln and Officer's father attended the same church. Also, Lincoln knew around 30 ISD board members and when he was buried in Springfield, two of ISD's board members served as pallbearers.

It is doubtful Mary ever met Lincoln, but she certainly knew Gov. Clinton and possibly attended some of the same social events in New York. I imagine Mr. Lincoln would have enjoyed chatting with her and hearing personal stories about the Mitchills and the man he admired, Gov. DeWitt Clinton.

After her husband's death, Mary Rose Mitchill became the assistant matron at the NYI in the 1840's. Thomas Gallaudet's son and namesake, Rev. Thomas Gallaudet who worked at the NYI with Mary, married Elizabeth Budd, one of the students there. Budd was supervised by Mary and Budd mentions her numerous times in her diary (shared by Gary Wait, ASD archivist). The girls under Mary's care loved her. In 1844 Budd wrote of the blossoming relationship between a deaf teacher, Nathan Totten, and Mary:

"April 9, Tuesday

In the afternoon as I was in the sitting room, writing a letter to Marianne, I heard a little noise, and turned around and was much surprised to find Mr. Totten standing and seeming as if he waited uneasily for his dear widow. Miss Hull immediately became pale and ran upstairs into the room, and said to Mrs. Mitchell that Mr. Totten was now in the sitting room. Then Mrs. Mitchell came down and embraced and kissed him and this made me feel chilly – she seems to love him very dearly and fondly –"

Mary wed Nathan M. Totten in 1844. Mr. Harvey Peet of the NYI interpreted. The Tottens spent a short time at the North Carolina Institution before moving to Jacksonville in 1847. Totten was the first permanent teacher employed at ISD. He taught in the classroom and later added cabinet-making to his duties. Mary was appointed matron and after school hours she taught sewing, cooking, and etiquette. She was responsible for all matters relating to the girls, just like a mother would be. At the end of her first year, the school reported "she had given evidence of very superior qualifications for the post...and she won the affections and confidence of all over whom she has care." They returned to New York in 1851 so Nathan could recover from illness at the home of Mary's brother. A Biennial Report stated the loss of the Tottens was severe and "they had so entwined themselves around the affections of all that it will be long indeed before their names and deeds will fade from the memories..."

Nathan never recovered from his illness. He passed away on Sept. 11, 1851, just one day after Thomas Gallaudet died. Mary went back to work at the NYI for a couple of years and then in 1854 decided the time was right to return to her beloved students in Jacksonville. Her arrival at ISD was described by Supt. Officer: "The joy with which she was received by the pupils, can only be compared to that with which a beloved mother is received by her affectionate children after a long absence."

ISD's first class graduated in 1855. Mary Totten was there to see and participate in that momentous occasion with all of the students she had so lovingly cared for beginning in 1847. The joy everyone felt was short-lived because in the fall of 1855 board issues and public charges of political corruption erupted and almost ruined the school. Mary was forced out as was the superintendent. Several board members resigned. All the teachers left except for two. School began that year with 107 students and at the end of the year only 22 remained.

Mary went back to the New York Institution once again and stayed until she retired. She was honored by the school at its 75th anniversary celebration for her historical connections. Mary was personal friends with all the famous first families in deaf education. Two of Mary's friends at Hartford were Sophia Fowler and Eliza Boardman. Sophia married Gallaudet and Eliza became the wife of Clerc. Mary Emma Rose Mitchill Totten was there at the beginning of the first school in Hartford, the first one in New York, and she was the first matron at ISD. Mary Totten died at age 89 and Rev. Thomas Gallaudet, son of her first teacher and lifelong friend, presided at her funeral.

There are no statutes for little Mary Emma Rose like there are for Alice Cogswell, but Capt. Joseph Rose, Mary's grandfather, built a house at 273 Water Street in New York City in the early 1770's. It's been rebuilt several times and it is the third oldest building in Manhattan. There is a Rose street, too. During colonial rule, it was known as Prince Street, but was re-named for the Rose family after the British left New York.###

Moses and Sally (Newton) Rose Descendants

ULSTER AND DELAWARE COUNTIES, NEW YORK

Many years ago Gregg Taylor and Robert Rose provided information to the Rose Family Association on this family. Their interest was in the son Horatio Rose and his descendants. Now, from Bob Prevette of Macedonia, Ohio, we have photos of some descendants of Moses' son George E. Rose.

Moses Rose ca 1810 (1850 census), born Pine Hill, Ulster County, New York according to the death certificate of his son Horatio Rose. Moses Rose must have died 1850-55 for his widow is head of home in the 1855 state census of Delaware County, New York. Moses married Sally Newton according to the death record of son Horatio Rose.

Children: Of Moses Rose, from 1850-1870 census.

- i. George E. b. ca 1845, b. Roxbury, Delaware Co., NY. He is listed in the 1920 cenus of Shandaken, Ulster Co., New York as aged 76. With him is his wife Mary M. Also with him was his daughter Letitia R. Banker, aged 48, and her children. George E. m. Mary Malicie Haynes who was born July 1853. Among his children was a son Alonzo Nathaniel Rose who was born in 1870. He m. Eleveyna C. Wells, daughter of Theodore Wells and Mary Emily ---. She was born in 1869 in New York and died in 1936.
  - ii. Auzena (f) b. ca 1847-1848
- iii. Auzelus (m) b. ca 1848-1849, Delaware Co., NY
- iv. Horatio b. 4 Nov. 1851, Delaware Co., NY, which shows his father as Moses Rose.

  mother as Sally Newton. Horatio Rose
  m. Carrie Cheeseman (d.c.). He had a son
  Albert A. Rose b. 25 Feb. 1875, Windsor,
  N.Y. (d.c.), and d. 2 Apr. 1948 (d.c.) in Susquehenna Co., Pa.

Alonzo Nathaniel Rose and his wife Eleveyna C. Wells, parents of Bessie Rose.

According to Bob, George E. Rose had a son Alonzo Lorenzo Rose (born ca 1870 per the 1880 census of Delaware County, New York). Alonzo's daughter Bessie Letita Rose was born 5 October 1889 in Pine Hill, Ulster County, New York and died 26 March 1967 in Urbana, Illinois. She married 23 November 1908 in Kingston New York to Smith Edward Davis. Bessie was Bob Prevette's grandmother and is shown to the left.

There are various interesting accounts of this family in Bob's records. He also has the handwritten application for Birth Certificate made by Bessie Letitia Rose who gives her parents as Alonzo N. Rose and Alvyna Wells Rose. She stated "I was raised by my paternal grandparents Mr. and Mrs. George Rose Pine Hill New York." She adds that there were four children: Bessie Letitia Rose, Mabel Eva Rose, George Rose, and Mary Melissa Rose.

Mary Melissa Rose, sister of Bessie. She was older then Bessie. She s said to have married a Hollywood producer but no further was heard from her.

Isia Bud Rose (1850-1934)

BY ROSEMARY C. DAVIS

The followingn was submitted by Rosemary C. Davis a number of years ago. Her Isia Bud Rose was a son of John and Mary Ann (Wilson) Rose of Tennessee and Grundy County, Missouri. After John's death his widow Mary Ann married in Neewton County, Missouri, to William Milstead. The ancestry beyond John is not known.

Isia Bud Rose was born on May 15, 1850 approximately 15 miles from Cumberland Gap, Tennessee. In the next few years his father made several trips to Missouri, presumably to look for a new place to settle. Then, when Isia Bud was 9 years old, he moved with his mother to Missouri.

The 1860 census of Neosho, Missouri, shows him in the household of his parents, John and Mary Ann (Wilson) Rose. Also in that household were his brothers James and John.

In June, 1861 the father, John Rose, joined the Confederate forces and served in Company A of Hoods (or Woods) Regiment of Missouri Cavalry. Captured at Longview, Ashley County, Arkansas, in early 1864, he later died in a Union prison on May 24, 1864. He and his twin brother William, who was in the Union Army, are both buried in Fort Smith, Arkansas, in the Cemetery for Civil War soldiers.

After the death of her husband, Mary Ann Rose married a Mr. Milstead, an ex-whaling ship sailor, in Neosho, Missouri, and they moved to Coreyelle County, Texas. She had two more sons by this marriage. She died presumably before 1880, and is buried in or close to Marlin, Texas.

Isia Bud Rose remained in Missouri for a time after his mother left, and then went to Texas to join her in 1869. He seems to have been motivated not only by the wish to be with his family but also by a desire to hunt buffalo. This was during the years of the great American slaughter of the buffalo, and the family story is that he killed 1,200 of them. This gave him a good financial base with which to begin life in Texas.

In 1871 he married Hannah Susan Huffman, daughter of Dr. David E. Huffman and his wife Elizabeth "Betsy" Bybee. The Huffmans gave the young couple a few head of cattle with which to start married life.

I. B. and Hannah Susan moved to Dublin, Erath County, Texas, before Ollie Victoria Rose, my maternal grandmother, was born on December 25, 1876. The family later moved to Breckenridge, in Stephens County, and then to Coleman, in Coleman County, before moving to Midland, in Midland County, around 1888 From Midland, Texas, they moved to Roswell, Chaves County New Mexico in the fall of 1899. At that time, I. B. Rose moved the largest herd of sheep in that area from Midland to Roswell.

In 1902, Isia Bud Rose and his oldest son, John Rose, together with some others, organized the Roswell Lumber Company. I. B. served as president from 1902-1926 until the company was bought by the Big Jo Lumber Company.

He and his wife Hannah Susan (Huffman) Rose had ten children: John; Blueford (who died in infancy); Ollie Victoria; Benjamin Franklin; Joseph E.; Howard L.; David Edward; Clarence Addison ("Man"); Elmer Aubrey ("Pete"); and Marsha (who died in infancy). Hannah Susan Rose, aged 77 years, died in Roswell, New Mexico, on March 6, 1934. Isia Bud Rose, aged 84 years, died in Long Beach, California, on September 11, 1934. Both are buried in the Roswell, New Mexico, cemetery.

Albert Henry Rose

Bill Charlton sent this poem which he wrote about his wife Robyn's anestor. Bill says that the significance of this poem is that Albert was killed on 11/11/1916 in France. Remembrance Day next year marks the 100th anniversary of his death and I thought it would be only fitting that his memory be honoured by the presentation of this poem to the Rose Family as a whole on this special day. I am an Australian War Poet who writes to honour the memory of the Australian fallen of all wars so that they Live for posterity.

Bill also adds that Thomas and Jane Rose were the first free settlers to Australia. They arrived on the Bellona on 17 January 1792. Jane's maiden name was Bilpin. This couple lived at Rose Cottage Wilberforce. Bill's wife Robyn is a descendant of their daughter Mary Rose.

ALBERT HENRY ROSE

Albert was a bushman and he worked as a station-hand. He was a descendant of Thomas and Jane Rose, the first free settlers in this land. When he joined up, this Moree lad was twenty seven years of age. And in 1916 he sailed on the 'Scotian' to where the war in Europe raged.

His vision was defective and he was recommended for a non-combatant role.

But when he was sent to reinforce the 20th Battalion it was apparently out of his control.

He spent a month fighting in the trenches of the Somme

And then in the Battle of Pozieres he again was called upon.

Later they moved to Belgium to a quieter sector for a rest But in October they were back in the line, doing what they did best. In November the Battalion was in the vicinity of Flers And it was during this time that Albert's fatality occurred.

The Battalion were preparing to launch an attack and the conditions were atrocious. "The worst ever encountered by the AIF", Charles Bean has duly noted.

How Albert was killed and where he lies has never been recorded.

Only a name on a Memory Wall was all he could be afforded.

Albert served his Country though he just couldn't see. He was sent to a place where he was not meant to be. Though he did his duty and showed that he was brave. He now lies condemned, in a cold and unmarked grave.

From the Mail Bag

From James Rose #2320R97 of Portland, Oregon, descendant of Robert Rose of Edgecombe County, North Carolina: "In the 1970's while at the Univ of Colorado-Boulder I was involved in school desegregation programs in 7 southern states. Twenty of my former southern students came to Portland to say "thanks!" One of the great benefits of teaching."

The annual reunion of the Joseph Rose family of Montgomery County, Virginia was held August 9th in Covington, Virginia. If you wish to join next year's gathering email to Alan Clark at aclark25@ juno.com.

QUERIES

Q-1186. ROSE. Seeking information on my biological mother who was a ROSE before she got married. Her name was Dawn Rose, b 14 Oct. 1957, and my father was Patrick Kenneally. I was born in New London, CT, and was raised in foster care. I understand my mother was twin with a boy, and that there was another set of twins before her. Any help sought.

DO YOU REMEMBER ...

We have told so many interesting tales in some of our issues. Do you remember the story of Brig. Gen. Thomas E. Rose of Solebury, Pennsylvania, who engineered the famous escape from Libby Prison in Richmond? An incredible tale of creating a tunnel over months of digging. When recaptured one of the Confederate soldiers lamented that they had to recapture Rose for he had so much respect for the escapee but yet they could not but capture him for that very fortitude made Rose dangerous to the Confederacy. He was again imprisoned but did live and is buried in Arlington.

Or the story of Louis Moses Rose of the Alamo. For many, many years rejected as the last survivor of the Alamo, but finally sufficient proof that he was there via court testimony. Moses, as he was known, is the one who related the story of the line drawn by Col. Travis.

These and other accounts have fascinated us. When you run across items of interest on a Rose, wheter or not of your own Rose family, do pass it on so we can share it!

Rose, Charles J., 5583
